How well are we preparing Oregon students for life after high school?

Join other families, students, community members, and Oregon Department of Education (ODE) staff to learn about how Oregon sets goals and measures progress for special education All families are welcome and valued.

During this session, ODE will share information about outcomes for students with disabilities. Topics include fourth-grade literacy, high school graduation, and transition from school to life afterwards.

IDEA 1975 → Present
Individuals with Disabilities Education Act

You will have an opportunity to learn about the target-setting process required under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and share your ideas about the goals Oregon should set.

Your feedback will help Oregon set new goals for students with disabilities.

All events are from 5PM-7PM. Choose the location that works best for you. Snacks will be available. Childcare will not be provided, but children and youth are welcome.
